

PRIVATE COACHING with CINDY KANIA

Are you:

A 5th grader looking to get into a Performing Arts Middle School?

An 8th grader looking to get into a Performing Arts High School?

A High School senior looking to get into a college BFA program?

A College senior or older looking to get into a MFA program?

Then you are all probably working on audition monologues of some kind and are in need of CINDY KANIA'S Private Coaching!

One of the most important keys to giving your best performance is personal confidence, and a few sessions with Cindy will give you or your child that gift.

And being a parent herself, she knows the stresses to your time and wallet
Cindy works quickly and reasonably.

Cindy Kania has been a youth/young adult acting teacher/director/coach for over 20 years. Her extensive background ranges from CSUN's TeenAge Drama Workshop to Disney commercials to The Buckley School to Theatricum Botanicum and The Sport of Acting. She has helped students get into such schools as Millikan Middle School Performing Arts Magnet, LA County High School for the Performing Arts, Dennison University, and USC.

Here are some things her students have said about her:

"With Cindy, I felt empowered to trust my instincts, and learn new ways of approaching a scene without feeling spoon fed. She keeps it real in the sweetest way possible". MATT, MFA candidate

"I would been totally freaked if I hadn't worked with Cindy. Stephanie, middle school Cindy really helped my Shakespeare monologue come off the page. By the end, not only was I not afraid of Shakespeare, I loved it!"
LEXI, high school student
